

The Emerald Cultural Institute is delighted to introduce our new summer centre in Sligo, The Innisfree College and Convention Centre. This modern day campus overlooks the picturesque lake of Lough Gill and luxury student on-campus residences are a feature of this college. The location provides students with excellent opportunities to participate in a wide range of outdoor activities including horse riding, golf, watersports, etc.

Sligo is a dynamic and rapidly developing commercial centre, the thriving town is impressively situated on the banks of the Garvogue River while it is surrounded by a stunning Atlantic coast line and a most striking landscape, a blend of beaches, mountains and lakes. The poet W.B. Yeats developed a special affinity with Sligo referring to the area as "the land of heart's desire" and more particularly "The Lake Isle of Innisfree" a small-inhabited island of Lough Gill.

Sligo has a student friendly feel and it is widely acknowledged that students contribute to the vitality and cultural character of the town. As a student in Sligo there are plenty of opportunities to enjoy the social life on offer with friends or fellow students. The lively entertainment scene of the town includes a wide range of bars, nightclubs, restaurants, cinemas, theatres and art galleries. Traditional Irish music features strongly in the culture while the town's live music venues and the numerous music festivals cater for all tastes.

Students attending a programme in the Innisfree College and Convention Centre will be accommodated in a modern residence featuring high specification apartments on a beautifully landscaped site. Features of the accommodation include:

- 3 and 4 bedroom apartments – all bedrooms ensuite.
- Swipe card access control to all Blocks, apartments and bedrooms.
- Fully furnished, including study desks and chairs, sofas and TVs.
