Welcome Kit

We have many years of experience in preparing students for IELTS.

If you are new to IELTS we run introductory courses. We help you to become familiar with the exam, taking you through it step-by-step, give regular feedback and personal advice on your progress, and students are professionally guided using real exam materials. We also run more advanced courses for students who have already studied for the IELTS exam and are trying to attain high scores.

This course trains you in academic English, so it is an ideal preparation course to do before you go on to do an undergraduate course, Master's degree or PhD. The course itself focuses on what is most necessary at university, in terms of writing, listening, reading and speaking, and puts you in a strong position to do well on an English-language course at university.

However, the IELTS academic preparation course is not only useful for university, it also prepares students to have a more professional level of English for their work or daily life. It takes your English up to the next level, giving you the ability to do well in an English-speaking context.

Brian (Emerald Cultural Institute
IELTS Tutor)

"Preparing for the IELTS was one of the best choices I made when I first came to Ireland. The course allowed me to successfully enter both the work and academic environments, in a way that wouldn't have been possible otherwise. The teachers understood my challenges and helped me facing them. Studying in the Emerald premises also helped me socialise and challenge my English, going out of my cultural comfort zone".
